

THE 2021 EUGENE LANE OCCASIONAL PAPERS IN ANCIENT STUDIES

Wednesday, November 10, 4:30-6:30pm
112 Lefevre on the University of Missouri campus

The Department of Classics, Archaeology, and Religion invites all to attend these two paper sessions. Remote access information will be available upon application to David Schenker at schenkerd@missouri.edu.

Session 1: 4:30-5:30

1. Assessing the Sacred and Profane Uses of the Eleusinian Sacred Way, Emily Prosch
2. Using Object Biography to Highlight Aspects of Archaic Trades: The Case of the Terracotta Imitations of the Geneleos Group, Mattia D’Acri
3. Cicero, Quintilian, and Literary Reception: The Analogy vs. Anomaly Debate and the Ideal Orator, Matthew DeHass

Break: 5:30-5:45

Session 2: 5:45-6:30

4. Imagining the Future of Classics Pedagogy: An Introductory Course on Gender, Race, and Medea, Bridget Farahay
5. A Preliminary Analysis of the Conical Cups from the Minoan Peak Sanctuary at Stelida, Naxos, Kristine Mallinson

